

"ON TO MEXICO CITY" SLOGAN OF THE MADERO ARMY TODAY AS THEY CELEBRATE CAPTURING CITY OF JUAREZ WEDNESDAY

INSURGENTS BUSY TODAY BURY-ING DEAD AND CLEANING UP
THE STREETS OF THE CITY—MARTIAL LAW PROCLAIMED.

ARE PRISONERS SHOT?

Fact All Foreigners Are Kept Out of Juarez Leads to Report Federal Captives Are Facing the Firing Squad Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Juarez, May 11.—The insurgents are determined not only to hold their provisional capital against any attack, but to prevent a flight in this vicinity if possible.

Ready To March.
Plans were laid for a force to march south to meet Gen. Rabago, the federal leader who is reported to be on the way from Chihuahua. An engagement will probably take place at Casas Grandes.

Juarez Is Quiet.
Juarez was quiet today for the first time in several days. Gen. Navarro, who is paroled, spent the night in the same house with General Francisco I.
Madero, Jr.

Much Ammunition.
A large supply of ammunition and guns were captured by rebels with the fall of Juarez. The opinion prevails that an effort may be made to resume peace negotiations.

In Complete Control.
El Paso, May 11.—In complete control of Juarez the insurgent forces began clearing the wreckage and burying the dead of yesterday's eventful battle and preparing for an attack by the federal relief force, under Colonel Rabago.

Food and Medicine.
Washington, May 11.—Food and medical supplies and other materials needed by the people of Juarez will be permitted to cross the international bridge at El Paso. Instructions from Secretary of War Dickinson, to that effect, will be sent to Col. Steever.

300 Dead and Wounded.
It is officially estimated the killed and wounded at the battle of Juarez is three hundred, according to a dispatch from Col. Steever.

Take Possession.
Agua Prieta, May 11.—The insurgents today took possession of the town and set up a military government today.

Gomez Named.
Conference of the rebel chieftains
this afternoon the appointment of the Provisional cabinet was made and it was announced the minister of foreign affairs is Dr. Vasquez Gomez.

"On to Mexico City."
[BY UNITED PRESS.]
El Paso, May 11.—"On to Mexico City" was the slogan adopted by the Mexican insurgents today in the first flush of their victory over the troops of Gen. Navarro and the capture of Juarez. Within a week, it is predicted, the army of Madero will be on the march to Chihuahua, planning to capture that place before proceeding to the capital itself. Martial law was proclaimed in Juarez today, barring all persons from entering the city.
This was taken to mean that many federal prisoners are facing the firing squad.

Big Battle.
Douglas, Ariz., May 11.—One of the biggest battles of the Mexican revolution is expected near Hermosillo, which is now being besieged by fifteen hundred insurgents and towards which the federal garrison, which yesterday evacuated Agua Prieta, is fighting its way.

Joy Unrestrained.
Rejoicing in the new garrison continued unrestrained today. Everywhere insurgent soldiers are proclaiming Madero the savior of the country and Orozco, the conqueror of Juarez.

Navarro A Hero.
General Navarro and his twenty seven staff officers who surrounded these awards to Col. Garibaldi, are being feted today by their conquerors.
All the insurgents proclaim Navarro
a real hero.

Not Recognition.
Washington, May 11.—Although the Mexican insurgents in the capture of Juarez, will now be able to import arms and ammunition as they please, recognition as belligerents by the United States is yet impossible according to high officials here who have consulted international law records.
The Madero provisional government must be first judged reasonably capable of discharging the duties of a state it is set forth.

POPE'S CONDITION IS CONSIDERED SERIOUS

Has Become More Grave, and He Grows Weaker Say Reports
This Morning.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Rome, May 11.—The Pope's enfeebled condition daily grows more so-lous and is now such as to excite apprehension. His three sisters are nursing him in his room today.

WEALTHY RETIRED FARMER SUICIDED AT OSHKOSH

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Oshkosh, Wis., May 11.—August Flinders, aged sixty, a wealthy retired farmer of Pickett, committed suicide yesterday by hanging.

WILL LUMBER BARON HELP DIETZ TO WIN HIS FREEDOM NOW?

Hines Is Subpoenaed to Tell Jury
What He Knows of Case by the Defendant.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Hayward, Wis., May 11.—Judge
Held, on motion of John Dietz, today ordered the circuit court clerk to issue a subpoena for Edward Hines, the lumber magnate, as a witness for the defense in the Dietz trial. Sheriff Clark was sent to bring in the "Lumber Baron."

Judge Held was taken back when asked by Dietz to subpoena Hines. He said: "Mr. Dietz, if you are doing this for the purpose of creating a sensation, I shall not bring Mr. Hines into court, but if you are sincere I will have him brought in as a witness for you."

"I am absolutely sincere," said Dietz,
"and want to get at what he knows about the men he sent me who claimed they represented a man with more power than the governor of the state."

Judge Held withdrew Hines subpoena on being assured that the lumber king was out of the county.

True to his word, John Dietz, on trial with his family for the murder of Oscar Harp placed his fate and that of his wife and son in the hands of the jury without a word to them under oath.

The defense rested at eleven. Afternoon today. This sudden turn of affairs was a big surprise and resulted in adjournment of court because the state was unprepared to proceed further with the case until this afternoon.

The state is expected to submit the case without argument. Dietz will likely start his address to the jury
this afternoon.

The following statements were made by members of the family today:

"We showed the jury where the state witnesses were wrong, but still this may not do any good," John M.
Dietz.

"I have prayed for our acquittal night and day. If John is convicted and I am freed I will follow him to prison," Mrs. Little Dietz.

"We have been bent, but still I look for a disagreement," Leslie Dietz.

"We will all be together soon
now," Myra Dietz.

"I am satisfied with our case,"
Clarence Dietz.

MOLTEN METAL FALLS, INJURING A WORKMAN

Ladle of White Hot Metal in Millway-kee Foundry Drops, Burning One and Causing Expensive Fire.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, May 11.—Scores of workmen were panic-stricken and one seriously burned today when a fifteen ton ladle filled with molten metal at the Prime Steel company's foundry
here, fell, the white hot fluid flooding the foundry and setting fire to the building. The fire was extinguished with the loss of $5,000. Other nearby buildings were threatened for a time.

FAINTS IN HOT BATH AND MAY NOT LIVE

Racine Laborer Terribly Scalded After Loosing Consciousness in Tub of Boiling Water.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Racine, May 11.—Physicians are today making an effort to save the life of Julius Morante, a laborer, who fainted in a bath tub in a local barber shop last night while the hot water bath was running. He was paral-yzed and nearly dead when discovered.

In Memory of Sailors.
Annapolis, Md., May 11.—The first memorial to be placed in the Naval Academy in honor of the brave men of the Revolution was unveiled today in the presence of President Taft, representatives of the Navy Department and many naval officers. The ceremonies were in charge of the General Society, Daughters of the Revolution, from whom the memorial was a gift to the Naval Academy. The memorial consists of a heavy bronze panel that has been given a conspicuous place in Bancroft Hall of the academy. The panel, which was designed by William Cowper of New York, is a fine relief showing a sailor in action. The panel is about 10 feet long and five feet wide.

Florida for Conservation.
Tallahassee, Fla., May 11.—Pursuant to an invitation extended by the Florida senate a conference met here today for the purpose of agreeing on a conservation bill to be presented to the next legislature. The lumber, livestock, naval stores and other industries having to do with the natural resources of the State were well represented at the conference.

CLASH PREVENTED BETWEEN NATIONS

Intervention of European Powers Ended Threatened Hostilities Between France and Spain.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
London, May 11.—Just how a Franco Spanish clash over Morocco was averted recently has been a good deal of a puzzle hitherto. The explanation is that Spain was successful in its appeal to prevent France from virtually grabbing the country.

There is no question that France had made all plans to intervene in Morocco alone, to the time of crowding Spain entirely out of the latter's sphere of influence. Spain protested valiantly. It took some steps towards military preparations, too, but it was obvious that the match was too unequal for it to enter upon seriously.

But with its appeal to the other nations of the Algerian agreement,
the Madrid government had better luck. England, which though friendly with France, also keeps a watchful eye on Spain's interests, brought forceful but nevertheless effective pressure at Paris to safeguard the Spanish claims, always jealous of France's dominance in Africa, brought pressure which was not quite so tactful.

The result is that France and Spain are acting together, though not very harmoniously, so far as Moroccan affairs are concerned.

CORSCIANS DEMAND RADICAL REFORMS

Trouble For France Threatened In Island Unless Demands Made Are Granted.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Bastia, Corsica, May 11.—Serious trouble, if not rebellion, threatens in Corsica unless many much needed reforms desired by the island are granted by the French government.

An increase has been levied upon the custom tariff, the people assert without any of the money thus gained being spent upon the country. They also demand the drainage of the fever-ridden east coast. At a meeting here it was decided the incessant relief was granted within a very short time. Corsica will use force, if necessary, to obtain it. Excitement is intense and feeling against France is high.

COMMITTED SUICIDE IN NEW YORK TODAY

Wealthy St. Louis Resident Ended His Life on Riverside Drive This Morning.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
New York, May 11.—Charles Gar-nott, aged forty-nine, a wealthy St.
Louis paper manufacturer, committed suicide on Riverside Drive today. He had been suffering from a nervous breakdown.

TWENTY MILLIONS IS THE CAPITAL STOCK OF CONCERN

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Albany, N. Y., May 11.—[Hart, Schaffner & Marx, of New York, incorporated today with the secretary of state with a capital stock of twenty million dollars, in clothing and general wearing apparel.

STRIKE SAVES THE LIVES OF HUNDREDS OF MINE WORKERS

Explosion in Mine Near Scranton Killed Five—Rest of Workers Were on a Strike.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Wilkesbarre, Pa., May 11.—Five men were suffocated by smoke from a fire in the Boston mine of the Delaware & Hudson Company at Lack-sville, this morning. A strike began at the colliery on Tuesday and consequently only a small number of men were at work. Had the full force been engaged the loss of life would have been appalling.

The fire continued to rage in the mine, but it is expected to be controlled soon.

SENATE DEADLOCKED OVER THE ELECTION

Three Votes Today Failed to Decide
Who Should be Presiding Officer
Pro Tem of Upper House.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 11.—Three ballots for president pro tem of the Senate,
taken this afternoon without result.
A deadlock is regarded as certain.

FARMERS PROTEST AGAINST MEASURE

Delegation of Angry Minnesota Agriculturists Stated Views On Reciprocity To Committee Today.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, D. C., May 11.—A millitant delegation of farmers from Minnesota, descended on the Senate committee on finance today with fiery protests against the Canadian reciprocity measure.

EVERYBODY

More classified advertising is being done now than ever before. Hundreds of people do building, remodeling, moving, housecleaning, buying a lot and home or farm, adding to their herds, employing more men, etc. For those people who use The Gazette Want Ads make many dollars. Perhaps you have never used one.
Let one ad convince you that you are losing money
by not doing so.

MUCH DAMAGE DONE BY ELECTRIC STORM

Barns and Houses Struck by Lightning in Storm Last Night in Wood County—Narrow Escapes.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Grand Rapids, Wis., May 11.—A heavy electric storm visited this section last night and did damage in Wood county. The barn of Alex.
Anderson, of Lindolph, and the home of Henry Primm of Mathews, was also struck and Miss Lucie Primm and daughter had narrow escapes from death. The department store of Samuels, of Pittston, was today reported to have burned with a loss of thirty thousand.

ORDER PROBE ON FREIGHT RATES

Commerce Commission Has Ordered Investigation of Alleged Unreasonable Rates on Wool and Hides.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Washington, May 11.—A comprehensive investigation of the alleged unreasonable freight rates on wool and hides from western points to eastern destinations was ordered today by the interstate commerce commission.

BREWERY EMPLOYEES STRIKE FOR RAISE

Seven Hundred Men, Members of the Building Trades Council, Struck in Milwaukee Today.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, May 11.—Upon the fall-ure of the Milwaukee Brewers' association to file a blank agreement granting a general raise in wages, about seven hundred men, members of the building trades council, employed by Milwaukee breweries, quit work today.

PRESIDENT'S FLIGHT MAY START TROUBLE

Resignation and Departure of Estrada
Said to Portend Another Revolution in Nicaragua.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Managua, Nicaragua, May 11.—The resignation and flight of President Estrada are today believed to portend another revolution.

AVIATION STUDENT KILLED IN CRASH

Herr Dekemuller, Instantly Slain At Berlin When Machine Struck Wall in Fog.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Berlin, May 11.—Herr Dekemuller, an aviation student, was instantly killed when his machine crashed against a building in a heavy fog today.

CLINTON LAD HAD A NARROW ESCAPE

Ralph Letts, Aged Four, Thrown From Gang Plow When Horses Ran and Was Injured.—Other News.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Clinton, May 11.—Little Ralph Letts, the little four year old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Letts, living several miles north and east of town, had a very narrow escape from death Tuesday. The father had four horses hitched to a gang plow in the barn yard
ready to go into the field to plow, when he had to leave the horses and go to the barn. As soon as his father had gone into the barn the little lad climbed up on the seat of the plow and the team became frightened and ran away, throwing Ralph from the seat.
When picked up it was found his left ear was nearly severed from his head and his cheek cut in two or three places. Whether the plow ran over him or in falling he struck some sharp projection is not known, but it is little short of a miracle that he was not killed.

To Sing Sunday.
It will be a rare treat for those who attend the Congregational church Sunday morning, to hear Miss Cordelia Leavitt Latham, who is a niece of Rev.
and Mrs. L. L. Cory, has just returned from a course of vocal instruction at Berlin, Germany. She will remain in the United States during the summer, returning to Germany in the fall to continue her studies.

Road Work Delayed.
Andrew Seaver had the misfortune to run his big forty power traction engine in the bank, head on, and broke the knighit and other damage.

The engine was being used to pull the plow and grader on the town road improvement work, now being done on the road south from the Simmons farm. The break-down is not only an expensive one for Mr. Seaver, but delays the work being done on the road.

Personal Items.
Mrs. Jack McConn and Miss Eva Gilbertson of Chicago, are visiting her nephew, Mrs. John Tuley and family, north of Clinton, at their country home northeast of town.

The streets have become quite dusty and the dust blew up Main street yesterday in great clouds. The sprinkler should be put into service at once.

Miss Edna Wolston has the measles and is confined to her room at the state school for feeble minded at Chilpew Falls, where she is teaching.

Miss Olive Cory is visiting friends at Ft. Atkinson for a few days.
H. A. Anderson is putting a new roof on his residence.

ATTORNEY PRESENTS PLANS FOR ACTION

Appeal To Supreme Court Or Review
By Writ of Error Suggested By Healy in Tilden Hearing.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Springfield, Ill., May 11.—In the Senate today Attorney Healy, who represented the body in the Tilden hearing before Judge Taft in Chicago, reported two plans for further action.
One is to appeal to the appellate or supreme court and the other is direct review by a writ of error. On motion of Healy the consideration of Healy's report was made a special order for next Tuesday.

CARS PLUNGED OVER BANK INTO STREAM

One Woman and Child Were Killed
In A Catastrophe Near Redcliffe, Col. Today.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Lendville, Col., May 11.—One woman and a child killed and thirty persons injured was the toll as result of the plunging of a day coach and tourist sleeper, of the west bound Denver and Rio Grande passenger train over an embankment into the Eagle River last night near Redcliffe, it was officially learned today.

FACE DEATH RATHER THAN STARVATION

Husband and Wife At Peoria Took Poison This Morning Fearing Starvation.—Were Formerly Wealthy.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Peoria, May 11.—Fearing starvation, Frank Hoffman and wife at one time well to do, committed suicide this morning by taking poison.

Child Welfare Show in Chicago.
Chicago, Ill., May 11.—Chicago's Child Welfare Exhibition, for which the claim is made that it is twice as large and much more comprehensive than the similar show held recently in New York, was opened to the public this afternoon and will continue two weeks. Exhibits showing what is being done in Chicago and elsewhere to improve the moral, mental and physical welfare of the child fill more than 70,000 square feet of the Coliseum and Annex. Children actively engaged in various arts and crafts, including printing, bookbinding, sewing and woodworking and in gymnastic exercises, form one of the leading features of the show.

Guests of Mrs. Taft.
New York, May 11.—At the invitation of Mrs. Taft a delegation of one hundred members of the Mount Society of New York left for Washington today to participate in the musical program at the May garden party on the White House lawn tomorrow afternoon. The program to be rendered by the society will include two numbers selected by President Taft.

GETTLE RESOLUTION ORDERED ENGROSSED BY THE ASSEMBLY

Measure for Amendment to Constitution for Initiative and Referendum Up for Final Action Tomorrow—Bankers on Record.

[BY UNITED PRESS.]
Madison, May 11.—The assembly met several hours in discussion on the Gettle resolution providing for the adoption of an amendment to the constitution for the initiative and referendum. The measure was engrossed by a vote of 72 to 6. This resolution is one of those designed to carry out the party pledges of the republican party. It will come up for final action tomorrow and will reach the senate next week.

At a meeting of the joint committee on legislative procedure late today an effort will be made to agree on a date for the final adjournment of the legislature. It is declared the meeting will likely result in an agreement to close all new business by June 1 and for final adjournment, June 20.

State Insurance. Commissioner H.
L. Ekern, and other state officials, today addressed the seventh annual meeting of the Bankers' Association of Southern Wisconsin, on subjects relating to pending legislation. In his discussion of the now pending deposit safety banking and insurance laws,
the bankers today went on record strenuously against both. The association is considered the most important group of the Wisconsin association.

PUMPKIN AND HORSE
NOW BECOME RIVALS

Speaker Ingram Would Pay More Attention to Prize Vegetables and Less to Speed Horses.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Madison, Wis., May 11.—Arguments made by Speaker Ingram before the committee on agricultural exhibits in the assembly yesterday afternoon took the form of a championing of the pumpkin and prize cattle at the expense of the speedy race horse, when the speaker declared that the farmers want greater encouragement for their farming industry than for jockeys and high-steppers.

Under the present law the state gives 50 per cent of the premiums and prizes at county fairs, but not to exceed one-third of this prize money
may be given for speed departments.
Some time ago the secretary of Wisconsin county fairs held a meeting in Madison and decided to ask the legislature to raise the appropriation for races from one-half to one-half the total sum of state aid.—Speaker Ingram favored cutting off the aid for races altogether, but the aid for the horsemen themselves to furnish. He favored a plan whereby 80 per cent of all other premiums, such as those for agricultural products, handicraft, works of art, cattle, etc., that excepting farm implements shall be paid by state money.

C. J. Wilcox, formerly manager of the speed barns at the state fair at West Allis, championed the jockeys in the discussion before the committee.

La Crosse, Chilpew and one or two other county fairs were represented by delegations who came originally to ask for more money for races, but at the close of the hearing it was believed the plan proposed by the speaker had met with their approval.

Murderer of Three to Hang.
Savannah, Ga., May 11.—J. C. Hinton, the alleged murderer of three women, is to die at the gallows tomorrow.

The Savannah jail tomorrow. Hunter's alleged victims were his wife, Mrs.
Maggie Hunter, and Mrs. Amanda Gribble and her daughter, Mrs. Ohlander.

The tragedy occurred in December home in Perry street. On December 10, 1908, Mrs. Hunter is said to have had trouble with her husband and was staying temporarily at the Gribble home. Neighbors found the three women dead in the house, their skulls crushed in from blows with a hammer. The triple crime aroused a storm of feeling throughout the city.
Owing to the suspicion that a negro was guilty of the murders, a general raid was made by the authorities on all the negro resorts in Savannah and half a thousand negroes were taken into custody. Later, however, suspicion pointed to Hunter as the perpetrator of the outrage. He was convicted of the murder of his wife and sentenced to death. His case was carried to the highest courts, but the efforts to save him from the gallows have proven fruitless.

Strawberries For All.
Roseburg, Ore., May 11.—Roseburg opened their third annual strawberry carnival today to emphasize their claim to being the center of the finest strawberry-raising country in the world. Hundreds of visitors poured into the city from every direction and were given their fill of plain strawberries, strawberry cream and strawberry shortcake. The city is decorated as never before in her history. The carnival program covers three days and is replete with attractive features in the way of parade, band concerts, outdoor sports and illuminations.

Texas Editors In Session.
Port Lavaca, Texas, May 11.—New-paper editors and publishers of the Lone Star State gathered here in force today for the annual meeting of the Texas Press Association. The forenoon was occupied with the exchange of greetings and the annual address of the president, J. P. Pansone, Jr., of Cleburne. The business sessions began this afternoon and will continue until the end of the week. The entertainment program is the most elaborate ever prepared for a meeting of the association and provides numerous features for the visiting ladies as well as the members of the association.

DULLNESS FOLLOWS SEASON OF PACKING

VERY LITTLE ACTIVITY TO BE REPORTED IN TOBACCO MARKET AT THIS POINT.

LULL IN TRADE HERE

Dealers Look Forward to a Good Demand for Crop—Weather Fairly Favorable to Growing Plants.

With the season of packing practically at a close, conditions in the tobacco market here are quiet. At present there is but one warehouse employing a force of sorters, although P. S. Holmes will reopen next week for a final run to clear up the lots on hand. Movement in any of the goods handled here has been unusually slack the past week and work at the various houses has been confined to placing the different lots for summer storage and other work which comes after the packing of the new crop.

It is the opinion of those who are conversant with the trade conditions in the big centers that there will be a good demand for the good grades of the 1910 crop this fall. This is favorable to a good price for the 1911 crop providing it is of a good quality.

The 1910 packings are well in the sweat at present and are going through the process in excellent shape. Most of the goods promises to be improved to a large degree by sweating and the better grades will make binders of good quality and will be sought after by the manufacturers.

Movement in tobacco here has been light and has included two carloads of low grades shipped by George H. Hummel, and 85 cases of '07 and '08 crops shipped by the same dealer; and three cars from the P. S. Holmes warehouse to the Chicago market. Mr. Holmes also received fourteen cars of the 1910 crop which had been handled at northern points. This completes the delivery of the northern crop at this point.

Weather conditions continue fairly favorable to the young plants and with warm sunshine and rains there will be no postponement of the transplanting season. The need at present is for moisture which is necessary for the tobacco land as well as the plant beds. Many of the growers have plowed their land and will keep it in shape until time for setting in order to insure the best possible conditions for the young plants.

From indications now there will be plenty of plants when the time for transplanting comes and this is a fact which will undoubtedly help boost the acreage for this season. When plants are abundant it is the tendency to set a large acreage as possible, but when there is a scarcity many growers will not take the trouble to buy plants.

Reports from the National Cigar Leaf convention the first of this week are lacking here as there were none of the local dealers who attended. The main interest in the convention here was that something might be done concerning the tobacco legislation in congress, especially along the lines of the tariff. Trade journals are strong in their advocacy of a uniform rate for Cuban tobacco and also for a reduction in the tariff on Sumatra. It is not believed by dealers here that much of importance was accomplished, however, as the control of the association is too much in the hands of one faction.

LOCAL MARKETS HAVE FRESH VEGETABLES

Reasonable Prices Prevail, Home Grown Green Things To Be Found.

Local markets now contain all that may be desired in the way of vegetables which may be obtained at reasonable prices. Now a little of the early spring produce is raised by local growers and of excellent quality. Lettuce, radishes and onions are among the first of the local household products and have been on the market for some time past. Rhubarb and asparagus is now offered as well as spinach, all of which are grown here.

Added to this outlay is a fine assortment of vegetables from the south which are shipped in for the dealers here from the Chicago markets. Included in this array may be found tomatoes, cucumbers, beans and several varieties of beans, carrots, parsley and almost anything the housewife has a mind to call for. All of these may be obtained at reasonable prices which are unusual at this time of the year.

Added to the vegetables may be found at the stores excellent specimens of potted plants, geraniums, red, white and pink, and other plants, vines and shrubs. The geraniums may be purchased at 15 cents a piece or two plants for a quarter; and bought in dozen lots may be had for $1.45. At some places smaller plants may be had for 10 cents. Gardeners who do not want to take the trouble of raising their own cabbage and tomato plants can buy them at a reasonable price at any grocery store.

Strawberries of unusual excellence and flavor for this time of the year may be bought now at the very reasonable price of 15 cents per quart or two quarts for 25 cents. The Illinois berries are now coming into the market well ripened and of a good size. The Tennessee and Louisiana berries are also found on the market and are of good quality.

The exceedingly varied and excellent array of spring produce which is to be found at the markets is a joy to the heart of the housewife, who will not be at a loss to prepare varied and toothsome menus from this outlay of spring goods. Some of the prices are as follows:

Radishes, bunch, 5c.
Onions, 2 bunch, 5c.
Lettuce, head, 5c.
Parsley, bunch, 10c.
Spinach, bunch, 10c.
Rhubarb, pound, 3c.
Asparagus, bunch, 10c.
Cucumbers, apiece, 8-10c.
Beans, pound, 15c.
Carrots, bunch, 5c.

Potatoes, old, bushel 45c to 50c.
Tomato plants, 18c to 25c a dozen.
Cabbage plants, 10c to 15c a dozen.
Strawberries, quart, 15c.

IRREGULARITIES ARE SHOWN AT OPENING

NEW YORK, May 11.—Moderate irregularities were shown at the opening of the stock market today, prices changing being mixed and conflicting. Changes in the leading railroads and industrial issues were without importance.

MAC BETH ASSAULT CASE DISMISSED TODAY

Charges Dropped At Request of Complainant on the Payment of Costs of the Case.

Charges of assault and battery against Charles MacBeth, a harness maker, were dismissed this morning in municipal court on the payment of the costs of the case. MacBeth was arraigned in court two days ago on complaint of Frank Novack, a fellow worker and pleaded guilty. The case was, however, adjourned two days to Novack's request and this morning he asked that the case be dismissed. MacBeth and Novack it is said, got into an argument on circus day which became somewhat heated, and MacBeth struck Novack. Novack brought action against MacBeth to insure against repetition of the incident.

Aspen Cause Fire: Heated fishes placed near a board fence in the rear of the home of J. W. Scott on Hickory street, caused a slight blaze about 3:40 this afternoon. No serious damage was done.

ALDERMEN'S OPINIONS OF PROPOSED BRIDGE

QUESTION OF MATERIAL TO BE USED IN RACINE STREET STRUCTURE DISCUSSED.

FOR CEMENT OR STEEL

Some Favor Steel, Others Inclined Towards Concrete—Three Not Interviewed.

A careful poll of seven of the ten members of the common council relative to what material they prefer for the construction of the Racine street bridge, cement or steel, brings out a divided opinion. Two of the aldermen claim that a steel bridge is what the people voted on, but a careful inspection of the election call fails to show that the material to be used was mentioned in the call.

It was said at the time the bridge at Racine street was first discussed that it would probably be of the same style as that of Court street, but nothing definite was printed regarding it. The principal thing was to get the bridge voted on and the tax levy authorized for its construction.

The steel construction style had been practically decided upon until the agitation for a cement bridge became prominent. It appears now that the council has before it for consideration a cement bridge, with walks on both sides, of the latest model and pattern, which can be constructed much cheaper than a steel bridge with walks on both sides.

Feeling that the sentiment of the aldermen would be interesting to the taxpayers of the city, particularly those that are partisans of one style bridge or another, all that were in the city have been interviewed and have expressed their opinion. Aldermen Dault, Huebner and Spohn are out of the city and could not be seen. Mayor John C. Nichols favors the cement bridge construction. He said today:

"I believe that a cement bridge would be feasible. I am informed that one of the objections was the possible presence of quick sands at Racine street. I am told by a prominent engineer that this makes no difference and as sound a bridge as a steel one, and much handsomer, can be easily built. Aside from that we have an offer now for the construction of a cement bridge that is less than the cost of a similar one built of steel.

City Engineer C. Kerch, when asked whether he preferred a concrete or steel bridge at Racine street, spoke strongly in favor of the concrete. In his opinion this was by far the more permanent of the two. In addition to this, he said that the cost of maintenance of the concrete bridge would be less than that of the steel by a long way.

Mr. Kerch has two other very good reasons why he favors the concrete, one being on account of its artistic appearance and the other that a greater share of the money expended in its construction could be kept at home than would be if a steel bridge was decided upon. He stated that there was no comparison as far as time and beauty was concerned and that in early the city decided to erect a concrete span that a surprising amount of the money spent could be kept among local people.

Alderman H. C. Connell, when asked which type of a bridge he preferred, stated that he much preferred the concrete on account of the appearance and fact that such a structure would be more progressive and up to date. He said, however, that before he would finally sanction such a type of bridge for Racine street, he would like to see the company doing the work furnish a substantial guarantee for at least from three to five years. He said that he had heard that the company which had bid on the work had offered to guarantee their structure for five years with an additional one for cents to cover the bonding. Mr. Connell said in case a guarantee of this kind could be arranged he would be in favor of the concrete.

Alderman William Hall stated that he was in favor of the steel bridge for the reason that he was afraid of the construction work of the concrete type. He stated further, that while a good substantial guarantee on the part of the concrete company for the life of the work would influence him to some extent, still there were other things that stood in the way. Among other objections to the concrete, he said that the pipes of the water company were situated underneath the bridge and that in case of a three span concrete bridge, he thought that difficulty might be encountered from this source in the future.

Alderman H. G. Shortliff was undecided on the question of the bridges. He said that as yet he had not looked up the matter thoroughly and he could not say just what he would give as his final decision. He said that it was his intention to consult with the tax payers and also to inquire into the success of the several kinds in other cities and having done this, to vote as his better judgment directed.

Alderman Evans expressed himself as strongly in favor of the steel bridge. That was the bridge which the people voted for at both elections and that is the bridge for which plans and specifications were drawn.

"It was generally supposed," he said, "that the Racine street bridge would be similar to the Court street bridge and that was the understanding all through the agitation, and that is the bridge I favor. The city engineer drew rough plans for a cement bridge and afterward I believe they were completed, but they were unauthorized. The bid which was made on a cement bridge was also unauthorized and the council never considered it seriously. They have awarded the contract to the company which will erect a steel bridge and it would remain that way."

"I don't think the cement bridge should be erected at Racine street either for the reason that it would be above the main outlet sewer and would not be desirable for that reason. The steel bridge will give the best satisfaction and is the bridge favored by the voters."

bridge would be similar to the one at Court street and everyone knows what sort of a bridge that is.

"If I was paying out my own money for a bridge at Racine street I would certainly build it of steel, and I shall vote for the same on the part of the city. Concrete contractors here do not favor a cement bridge for the reason that there is danger of striking quicksand. If the cement bridge would crack it would mean that all that expense of building another bridge would be necessary.

"I want to see a substantial and durable bridge at Racine street and I believe that the steel structure will give the best satisfaction. If it can be satisfactorily shown that a cement bridge is cheaper and better, why then, I would favor it; but I don't think that can be done. I favor the steel bridge."

Alderman J. E. Donahue of the Fifth Ward expressed himself as being in favor of the concrete form of bridge for Racine street. "I think," said he, "the concrete is the more substantial bridge."

Which would you favor for Racine street? was asked.
"Well, if the price for the steel structure and for a concrete bridge were the same or nearly the same I would prefer the concrete. However, I am unacquainted with the full specifications for the Racine street bridge, but from what I know of them I think the concrete structure would be the best to build. The Spring Brook bridge is the best in the city and as good a bridge as can be built."

"I believe a concrete bridge properly built would last longer than a steel one and the upkeep would be far less. It would not have to be painted or repaired. I understand that the company that has a proposition to construct a cement bridge at Racine street will give a guarantee for five years."

"Concrete is the only kind of bridge to build over the river at Racine street," is the view expressed by Alderman Edward J. Schindliff. "I am heavily in favor of a concrete bridge over the river at Racine street," said he today. "They are the kind that will last forever, and will be much more serviceable and appear better. Sidewalks should be constructed on both sides of the bridge."

CANORRIST IN RACE AT TRIAL.

Grice Testimony of Informer is Driving Him Mad.

Vitorio, Italy, May 11.—The trial of the Canorristi was brought to a sudden stop by a scene in which Ericcione was the principal actor. He had gradually worked himself into a state of frenzy during the confrontation of Albrenzagio by Giovanni Rapi, the alleged treasurer of the organization. Ericcione's wrath vented forth when the informer began to ridicule Rapi's explanations of his whereabouts at different times. He suddenly leaped to his feet and pointing to Albrenzagio shrieked:

"He is driving me mad! Take me to a lunatic asylum! Send me to hard labor, although I am innocent, but relieve me of the presence of that rascal. I cannot stand him a moment longer."

Ericcione was ghastly and trembling. He was surrounded by the prisoners in the cage, and fearing that he might collapse the president adjourned the court.

FORGER WANTED AT EDGERTON CAPTURED

W. C. Shelton Taken at Cheyenne, Wyo., by Pinkerton Detectives—Passed Forged Check on Edgerton Bank.

(SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.)

Edgerton, May 11.—Pinkerton detectives, who have followed the trail of W. C. Shelton, a check forger, for a number of months, have finally found the man and placed him in jail at Cheyenne, Wyoming. He is wanted in Edgerton. Last September Shelton arrived here with a shipment of sheep belonging to Pope and Howard of Miles City, Montana. While the stock was at the feeding yards, Shelton cashed a check drawn by Errol J. Shannon on a Miles City bank. Soon thereafter the check was returned as worthless.

For some time detectives have been looking for him. Once they located him in Iowa, but finally they captured him on a ranch near Cheyenne. District Attorney R. G. Dinswiddle has been here and regulations papers have been secured. An officer will be sent to bring the prisoner here for trial at once.

STRUGGLES TO DIE ON BRINK OF NIAGARA FALLS

Aged Woman, Believed Insane, Rescued Against Her Will After Battle With Constable.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., May 11.—Constable Thomas Harrington, after a desperate fight at the brink of the cataract rescued Mrs. Elizabeth Hartley of Buffalo, aged sixty years, who was determined to end her existence, from certain death. In doing so he endangered his own life in his struggles with the determined woman.

Mrs. Hartley entered the water about sixty feet above the falls. Her dress caught on a jagged rock 15 feet from the brink of the falls. There she was held until Harrington reached the bank with a pike pole and hooked it into her dress.

Her arms pinched by the terrific current, Mrs. Hartley tried to get free from the pole, but finally, weakened by her struggles, she became quiet and was dragged ashore. At the hospital where she was taken it is said she cannot live.

On the river bank were found a letter and a bunch of flowers. The letter read: "No longer to be treated as a thing demeaned."

Word received later from Buffalo said that Mrs. Hartley was an inmate of the state hospital there. She had been on parole for several weeks and left the institution to take a position in a private family.

The Chiropractors

Disease, sickness aches and pains do not come from nothing. Healthy men and women do not suffer, but live pleasantly all the time. Half nourished bodies caused from subluxations in the spine are bound to be sickly.

The Chiropractors remove the subluxation, thus removing the cause of your sickness. We use no drugs, there are no operations, no mental healing, etc. Chiropractic is not medicine. Surgery or Osteopathy. It is a new science, more wonderful than any other method. The Chiropractors remove the cause of all ailments, they do not treat symptoms. Of what use is it to fill the stomach with medicine to remove the cause of your ailment when your sickness is caused by lack of life current from the brain.

THE BOY FARMER.

Collier's Weekly contains the following paragraph concerning one of the young farmers of the west:

"Elmer E. Hatter of Faulkner county, Arkansas, is seventeen years old. He lives a mile east of the county seat, Conway, on a farm that several years ago was considered worn-out, but now is making us a good living and a small bank account—the words are the boy's own; they suggest responsibility and a serious-minded outlook. Last year, on a single acre of this old farm, Elmer raised 947 bushels of corn; by this he won the Boys' Corn-Growing Contest and received one hundred dollars from the Arkansas Bankers' association.

"Other prizes that he won in exhibitions at the Faulkner County Fair, the State Fair at Hot Springs, and the Tri-State Fair at Memphis aggregated $275.50 in cash; also a Berkshire pig, a registered Poland China pig, a trip to Washington, and an official diploma from Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture. Something of the intelligence this boy puts into his farming is hinted at by one line from his letter: 'We tested a piece of ground with blue litmus paper.'

"Evidently the schooling this boy has received has tended to make him a farmer, not a bookkeeper, a clerk, or a motorman. For him the path of least resistance is to stay on the farm, not to go to the city. Apparently somebody connected with the public schools of Arkansas is doing a man's part toward solving the most important economic question in the United States. A booklet telling all about young Hatter's methods, the fertilizer he used, the number of times he harrowed and hoed, the seed he used, has been published, for free distribution, by the public-spirited bank of Conway."

"This is scientific farming, a product of the new generation, for not until recent years have the schools and colleges given attention to agricultural training. Today this department ranks in importance with every other and results obtained are very flattering.

"The best judges of stock, the best butter-makers, and the scientific farmers are the boys who have enjoyed the advantage of special training. The railroads of the west have contributed freely to this kind of instruction, by sending out trains equipped with teachers and all sorts of appliances to aid in the work.

In some of the western states the common schools have come to realize that the farmer's boy is entitled to an education along the lines of everyday work, and so the seed, the soil, and the climate command attention, and the boy becomes interested because he soon discovers that scientific farming is as much of a business as running a store.

Young 'Hatter' enjoyed this kind of training and he made good at an age when most boys are dependent. Many a farmer's boy who is restless while passing through the uncertain age, between boyhood and manhood, would come to himself and settle down to work, could he have the proper encouragement.

OILED STREETS.

"The purchase of four hundred thousand gallons of oil for street purposes by the city, fairly launches the practice of universal street oiling in Madison. To every citizen interested enough to note the results of last year's oiling this will be pleasing news. In Madison where virtually all the attractive streets are macadamized, it will mean much in the matter of cleanliness to the people and economy to the taxpayers.

"There is no doubt that the method of applying the oil can be improved upon. If it be practicable the oiling should be done a block at a time and traffic be kept off the oil for three or four days. At least, the newly laid oil should be disturbed the smallest degree possible.

"An illustration of what a good coat of oil means on a street closed to traffic while the oil is setting can be seen at the east end of East Johnson street, from Fow street to the river. The work was done last season, but it is in perfect condition at this time. Not only is it absolutely free from dust but all the automobile traffic—of which there has been a great deal—has not disturbed a particle of the covering. The economy of the oil covering is shown here. No piece of new macadam without oil could have withstood without a flaw or break the amount of automobile traffic there has been on this part of Johnson street.

"The mayor, or the city engineer or whoever is responsible for the introduction of the oiling system deserves the thanks of every citizen of Madison."—Madison Journal.

"The city of Madison has more miles of good macadam streets than any city in the west. The care of these streets has passed, the experimental stage, evidenced by the fact that 400,000 gallons of oil has just been purchased for a top dressing. Here is an object lesson close at hand which Janesville may study with profit. Every macadam street in the city should be covered with an oil dressing at public expense, and every new street constructed, served in the same way.

"There is an economy which amounts to waste and we have too long practiced this sort of economy, both in construction and care. Now that we have learned how to build let's complete the job by adopting a method of intelligent and economical care.

The child welfare exhibit which opens tonight at the Coliseum in Chicago, and continues for two weeks, is a philanthropic movement to make clear the problems involved in the welfare of children. It has to do with every feature of child life in the large cities, and points the way by object lessons to improve conditions. The sessions are free and the hope is entertained by the promoters that much good will be accomplished.

The Kenosha Gas and Electric company has filed with the railroad commission at Madison a voluntarily reduced rate on both illuminating and fuel gas to $1.10 per 1000 feet, with a reduction of 10 cents per 1,000 feet for prompt payment. For patrons using more than 20,000 feet the rate is 80 cents, and for those using more than 30,000 feet, 60 cents. The former rates were 25 per cent above these figures. A single meter system is also agreed to.

The second postal bank to be established in Wisconsin will be at Beaver Dam. This is one of thirty-six new banks now being organized by the postmaster general. The work is slow in starting and it will be some time before the country receives the benefit.

The income tax measure lost in the Massachusetts legislature by a majority of one, which means that it will probably pass at the next session. The scheme is popular and the people will not be satisfied until it is tried out.

The Carnegie Steel Works, at Sharon, Pennsylvania, has posted notices prohibiting any of their men from working more than six days a week. The Sunday force will take a rest day during the week. This is a move in the right direction.

When the history of the Mexican rebellion is written, it will be difficult to find what the scrap was about. There was no disputed territory, and the only issue was the whim of an old man who refused to retire voluntarily from leadership.

If the time ever comes when we can buy what we consume, cheap, and sell what we produce at a good, round price, everybody will be happy. The only trouble is that the hog has not yet been discovered that can produce ten cent pork and ten cent bacon.

Canada is planning to build a $12,000,000 bridge over the St. Lawrence at Quebec. Its length will be 2,200 feet, and the longest span 1,800 feet. This will make the suspension bridge at Niagara look like a plaything.

The legislature of Colorado adjourned without electing a United States senator, and Simon Guggenheim will be the only representative for the next two years.

Germany is building an oil motor fleet of ocean-going ships, which will be ready for service within a year.

The railroads of the country had 153,000 idle cars on the first of May. Not a flattering outlook.

Florida watermelons have appeared in the Chicago and St. Louis markets. The society people of London have tabbed the harem skirt.

Revenge.
Rockford Republic: Congressman Sabath intends to introduce a bill regulating the Pullman Company as revenge for having to accept an upper berth when he had ordered a lower. Now can you wonder that the railway lators?

Us For the Middle.
Milwaukee Free Press: With forest fire on its northern boundary and Mexican bullets falling on its citizens along the Rio Grande the United States is anything but a quiet place these days.

Undesired Attention.
Madison Democrat: But on the q. l. are not Lorrimer and the little honestly getting rather more attention than they desire?

Poor Billy.
Wausau Record Herald: The war and state departments are said to differ regarding the trouble on the Mexican border. President Taft must have a lot of patience.

Not Quite in His Line.
Milwaukee Sentinel: Why doesn't President Taft select the German ambassadorship question by appointing Andy Carnegie? We have no doubt that Andy would be delighted to witness the German war maneuvers.

Poor Substitute.
Marquette Eagle-Star: The legislators who supported William F. Sheehan in the recent senatorial contest in New York, are going to give him a dinner by way of soothing his wounded feelings and injured pride. It is rather a poor substitute for a seat in the senate, but it is the best they can do.

Jack's Engagements.
Beloit News: The eminent Jack Johnson, we observe, will delay sailing to Europe until he has filled a theatrical engagement in New York. He also waited to fill a prison engagement in San Francisco. And yet, Jack, don't delay on our account. England is welcome to you.

(Copyright, 1909, by George Matthews Adams—By WALT MASON.

Methought I'd sent me in my chair, and fall into a study brown, but some blundered atack standing there without drew the chair as I sat down. And so I sat upon the floor, and broke two boards and eke my spine; and even as I wrote I'm sore, and vengeful thoughts and dreams are mine. I weigh three quarters of a ton, and when I'm down I can't get up; a joke like that seems meanly fun, and it with sorrow fills my cup. I do not like these dizzy jests which cause some follow in their heels, and make them act as though insane. The man who cannot see a joke, who cannot spring a sunny smile, unless some fellow's slats are broke—his sense of humor's out of style. Because I'm like a load of hay, and can't get up when I'm down, I am the fall guy every day for all the alecks in the town. I think the correspondence schools should start a new and useful grind, and teach now fully to the folks—some harmless and denatured kind.

Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

TO A MOTHER.

Dear Madam:
I am a "mere man" and incapable of some things advisory, but I wonder if you realize how grave a mistake it may be to overindulge your daughter. Naturally you try to shield your child, to save her from hardships; you efface yourself and sacrifice yourself for her.

For that are you a mother. Nevertheless your self inflicted martyrdom may work a serious harm to your daughter.

For instance:
I have in mind a good mother who slaved and pinched, hardened her hands and bowed her back—shortened her life, in fact—that her daughter might attend a fashionable "finishing school."

The daughter graduated and—Returning home discovered that she was out of touch with the old farm ways. Her education should have broadened and sweetened the child, but it did not. It simply unfitted her.

The sequel?
In sheer desperation the fretting, discontented girl ran away with a smooth adventurer and was finally ruined.

An extreme case? Maybe. But the girl's upbringing was the outcome of a wrong maternal policy that taught the child she ought to have what she wanted and that all things must be sacrificed to her "career."

She is a rare child who may be thus petted and without harm. The tender solicitude of the doting mother is noble in its self abnegation, but it is likely to be carried to the extreme of danger to the child.

Let the girl face the realities. It is not harsh to put burdens upon her. She must get a sane view of life by meeting hardships, conquering difficulties, bearing burdens, facing responsibilities. Also you desire your child; also your sacrifices will make her selfish, ungrateful and miserable. There is but one way to make character. Ease and luxury will not do it. The fiber of womanliness is developed only by bearing burdens, meeting cares, overcoming obstacles.

Do you want your daughter to become a strong and noble woman? Of course you do.

Then put the full share of life's load on her young shoulders and teach her to carry that load cheerfully and gracefully.

Redfern Corsets

The merits of these popular corsets have been explained this week by Mrs. Stebbins in the employ of Warner Bros., the manufacturers. ## LATE CABBAGE

Late cabbage seed should be sowed now. Cabbage seed is one of our specialties. All our seed is grown for us on contract in northern France and shipped direct to us. We have the following varieties:

PREMIUM FLAT DUTCH—This variety of late cabbage is a standard for winter use. It makes a large, solid head, which keeps long without burning. We recommend it for the family garden. Oz. 20c; $1.80 a lb.

HOLLAND—The favorite winter cabbage with market gardeners. It is as hard as a rock, and a small head will weigh as much as a large head of any other variety. The best cabbage for late spring sales and for shipping. Genuine French grown seed. Oz. 20c; lb. $1.80.

FAULTLESS—Medium late, of large size, with compact heads, make this cabbage popular with the grower, head maker and shipper. For two years has been the favorite with the P. H. Holland Jr. Co., whose seed we furnish. Oz. 20c; lb. 65c; $1.25.

MAMMOTH ROCK RED—The largest heading of any red sort. Heads are hard, of dark red color, quality excellent. Oz. 20c.

INTERURBAN SECURES*OPTION FOR A LEASE ON DEPOT PROPERTY

Company Has Option For A Lease On Main Street Property For Depot If They Come on East Side.

That the Interurban company had secured an option for a lease on property on Main street, for a depot, and that the closing of the deal was contingent upon the company's coming on the east side of the river, was stated by an officer of the above company this morning. The company is extending its heavy track on the east side of the river by virtue of a lease from the Janesville Traction Company, the object being to bring the line into the city along a street where there would be less friction from the property owners than was experienced on Franklin street.

Two years ago a number of the property owners on Franklin street filed condemnation proceedings against the Interurban company and the company was thus confronted by the fact that there was a possibility of their having to pay out a considerable sum to the plaintiffs. Rather than do this the company decided to attempt to come into the city by another route and to this end, by virtue of a lease from the Janesville Traction Company, started to lay their heavy track on the east side of the river. But at the present time, although over ninety per cent of the property owners on Main street have given their consent to having the line run by their doors, there is a chance that the plan will not go through. This is a result of some of the owners of property on the right of way objecting to the running of the Interurban cars past their house or from other causes refusing to give their sanction to the proposed change.

It was also learned this morning that in spite of the fact that the heavy rails have been laid on Belmont avenue and that the streets have been improved accordingly, the company may yet see fit to stay on the west side of the river if they cannot make the change without being confronted by worse difficulties than they were attempting to avoid. Up to the present time about fifteen hundred feet of the heavy seventy-pound rails have been put down and the new track extends to the corner of Belmont avenue and Eastern avenue. Besides, the laying of the track is the policy of the company to improve the condition of the streets in a permanent manner as they go along. To this end about 1000 tons of dirt have been removed from Belmont avenue, the same being filled with a high grade of gravel from the company's pit about four miles south of the city. The road bed has thus been improved and the street made wider.

The work is being pushed as rapidly as possible and the track that is being put down is of the best. The fact is evident, however, that in the case of the objectors of the property owners on the east side of the river prohibiting the line will not enter the city on this side of the river, but will remain where it is and the tracks will be used by the local company.

PALMER CLARK OFFER TO NEW ASSOCIATION

Noted Horseman and Track Builder Writes Mayor Nichols That He Will Be Glad To Aid New Park Association.

When the Park Association meets this evening at the assembly room of the City Hall and formally organized by electing officers, the secretary will be handed the first offer outside the city, toward making the new park a success, in the shape of a letter from Palmer Clark, the well known horse man and sporting writer.

Mr. Clark, who is president of the Chicago Horse Show Company of Chicago, writes Mayor John C. Nichols, that he is most interested in the work of the new Janesville association and that he would be glad to be of any service possible. As Mr. Clark has been most successful in building tracks in various parts of the country, and also in helping associations to organize race meets and promote fair, his advice and aid would be of material help to the new association.

The fact that Janesville has organized a new Park Association and that there is a possibility of race meets being held here again, has appeared in papers throughout the country and will simplify the matters of the association, when it gets ready to start active work. The meeting this evening should be attended by all stock subscribers and the formal organization will be perfected, officers elected and directors named who will handle the destinies of the association during its first year.

PROMINENT ARTIST IS VISITING IN CITY

C. Sather Werlein, Noted Norwegian Oil and Water Color Artist Here Painting Local Views.

Some of the many beauty spots in and about the city are to be reproduced on canvas by C. Sather Werlein, a noted Norwegian artist who is visiting Janesville for a few days. Mr. Werlein has traveled over a good portion of the United States, stopping at this city or that, painting a few water colors or oil paintings before continuing on his journey. Mr. Werlein makes his home in Chicago, and some of his best works have been in the large exhibits there and received favorable mention. He has painted several dainty little views of the river just above the city. Mr. Werlein came to Janesville from Madison, where he has visited several times and where he has many warm friends. He is a genial gentleman, most interested in his work and a good talker of his long travels in search of material for his paintings.

THIRD WARD HOMES WERE BROKEN INTO

Residences of W. W. Howard and Charles W. Reeder Broken Into Early Last Evening.

Robbers last night broke into two residences in the Third Ward, ransacking the residence of W. W. Howard, at 622 Milwaukee Avenue, but were foiled in their attempts to go through the home of Charles W. Reeder on Court street. But little of value was secured. The burglaries were committed between the hours of seven and ten o'clock while both families were away from home and it is thought local talent is responsible for the acts and the methods used were similar.

At the Reeder residence a spade, taken from a nearby garden was used in prying open a rear window leading into the sewing room. The window is placed near a porch and the work was done by the burglars. They opened one of the drawers in a sewing machine, but beyond that nothing seems to have been disturbed. Entrance to the other parts of the house were prevented as the only door out of the room was locked. The burglary was committed between the hours of half past seven o'clock and nine while the family were absent.

The evidence in the case seems to bear out the theory that the work was done by amateurs and someone familiar with the neighborhood. Had professionals been engaged in the work they would not have failed on the spade as a means of gaining entrance and the door out of the sewing room would undoubtedly have been forced.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard were at church when their home was broken into.

Returning they found every drawer in the bureau and sideboard pulled open and things turned topsy-turvy in them. A window on the north side of the house leading into the bedroom had been pushed up, the catch proving defective and affording an easy entrance for the marauders. From a handbag on the bureau a purse containing a five dollar bill, two quarters and some small change. A small case containing some trinkets belonging to Mrs. Howard were gone and a ring set with a garnet and two diamond rubies, one which Mrs. Howard had used when a girl, were taken. Two pairs of gold spectacles, a black silk ribbon watch face, valued at $1.50, and a velvet case were also removed.

Other small trinkets, it is thought, were stolen. The ring was valued chiefly by Mrs. Howard because the stone setting was given to her by a brother. She has offered a suitable reward for the return of the ring and the other articles.

Chief of Police Appleby was notified of the robberies this morning and investigated both. From the circumstances in both he believes that the same person or persons are responsible and that persons living near committed the thefts.

JOINT DEBATE WITH ROCKFORD TONIGHT

High School Will Have First Annual Junior Debate Here Tonight On Popular Election of Senators.

Tonight the first annual Junior Debate, Rockford vs. Janesville high school, will be held in the Auditorium of the local school. The question which will be debated is worded as follows: "Resolved that United States senators should be elected by the direct vote of the people of the several states."

The local school will uphold the affirmative and are prepared to put up a very good argument with the positive proofs and facts to back it. The Rockford boys will speak in the following order: Allison Burdick, Stanley Judd and Robert Cunningham. Rockford will take the negative and are said to have a strong team made up of the following men: Jules Houghtaling, Morris Shambler and George Patrick. Each speaker will argue his side of the question for ten minutes and they will have three minutes rebuttal with the exception of the leaders who will have five minutes rebuttal. The judges will be: Prof. Crawford of Beloit College, Prof. Robinson of Beloit High school and the third one will be a representative of the department of public speaking of the University of Wisconsin.

Tomorrow evening the district contest in oratory and declamation will be held at White-water. Janesville's only representative will be Miss Margaret Doty, who will represent the Janesville high school in the declamatory contest.

Little Bed-Time Tales

By EDITH HAVENS

Carmalita

CARMALITA was a pretty little German girl, who lived with her mother near the edge of a big forest in Germany. She loved the great trees and the birds, and sometimes she would spend the whole day long in the woods feeding her little friends and making gay green wreaths from the pretty leaves the trees tossed down to her.

One day as she sat on a little green hillside, tired from her play in the forest, she suddenly heard the sweetest little voice calling, "Carmalita, Carmalita."

It seemed to come from over her head, but she wasn't sure.

"Carmalita, Carmalita, would you wish to hear a pretty story?" came the voice again.

All Carmalita could see overhead were the pretty green leaves of the great tree swaying gently to and fro in the breeze.

"You are looking right at me, Carmalita—I'm the leaves—would you like to hear the story?"

Carmalita was so surprised that she could hardly speak at first, but she finally stammered, "Oh, yes, thank you—oh, yes." And the leaves began to speak.

It was the most beautiful voice Carmalita had ever heard—kind of far-away-like.

"You didn't know there were real true fairies in this forest, did you, Carmalita?" the leaves began. "Well, there are and I am going to tell you what happened only last night just where you are sitting now."

The leaves trembled and shook a bit as if getting ready.

Carmalita sat perfectly still. She didn't want to miss a single word. The voice began talking again.

"It was just about seven o'clock, at the time when the sun was getting ready to go bed over behind that big tree over across the brook, that I suddenly noticed something glittering like fire in those bushes by your side."

Carmalita looked at the little bushes beside her, but they looked just like all bushes look.

"Well, as I watched the bushes," continued the leaves, "there suddenly stepped out onto the hillside the tiniest and prettiest fairy, all dressed in shining silver and gold. Upon her head was a glittering crown of beautiful jewels, and as she fitted about she appeared like a tiny girl fashioned from a sunbeam. I kept just as still could be and watched her as she frisked to and fro, and then with a merry little laugh she danced back to the bushes."

"Come on, come on, my pretty ones of them."

"But did it never end?" asked Carmalita.

"Oh, yes, answered the leaves. "I was just going to tell you about it."

"Then the great moon peeped down through the trees, and I actually blinked my eyes for they all vanished as quickly as you could snap your finger. Wasn't that a great sight to see, Carmalita?"

"Oh, yes; I should love to have seen them," answered Carmalita, all excited. "Do you think I ever shall?"

"I am quite sure you will if you come and sit here very quietly some night," said the leaves.

When Carmalita told her mother that night the story the leaves had told her the good mother laughed and said: "Why, dear, you must have fallen asleep and dreamed it," but Carmalita knows better, and sometime she is going to watch for those wonderful people who only appear when they think no one is about.

"Come on, come on, my pretty ones of them."

"But did it never end?" asked Carmalita.

"Oh, yes, answered the leaves. "I was just going to tell you about it."

"Come on, come on, my pretty ones of them."

"But did it never end?" asked Carmalita.

"Oh, yes, answered the leaves. "I was just going to tell you about it."

"Then the great moon peeped down through the trees, and I actually blinked my eyes for they all vanished as quickly as you could snap your finger. Wasn't that a great sight to see, Carmalita?"

"Oh, yes; I should love to have seen them," answered Carmalita, all excited. "Do you think I ever shall?"

"I am quite sure you will if you come and sit here very quietly some night," said the leaves.

When Carmalita told her mother that night the story the leaves had told her the good mother laughed and said: "Why, dear, you must have fallen asleep and dreamed it," but Carmalita knows better, and sometime she is going to watch for those wonderful people who only appear when they think no one is about.

"Come on, come on, my pretty ones of them."

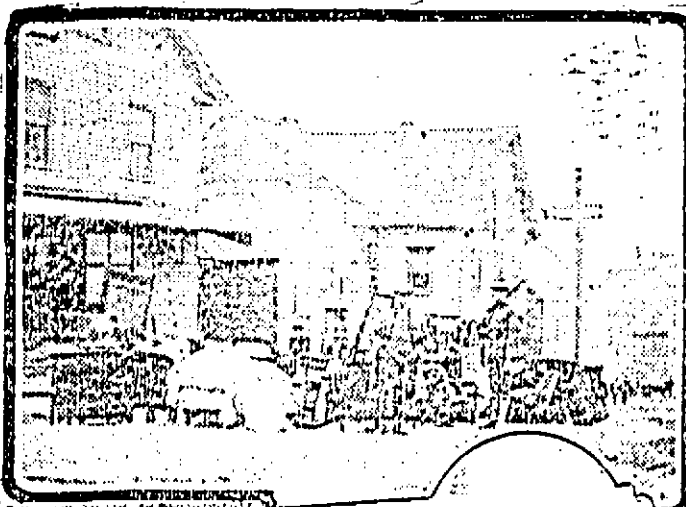

"But did it never end?" asked Carmalita.

"Oh, yes, answered the leaves. "I was just going to tell you about it."

"Then the great moon peeped down through the trees, and I actually blinked my eyes for they all vanished as quickly as you could snap your finger. Wasn't that a great sight to see, Carmalita?"

"Oh, yes; I should love to have seen them," answered Carmalita, all excited. "Do you think I ever shall?"

FIRST PICTURES OF $6,000,000 BANGOR FIRE.
Bangor, Me.—The human interest side of the great fire which all but wiped Bangor off the map is most pathetic. As soon as the ruins cooled sufficiently men and women could be seen sobbing in the midst of the chaos which had formerly been their homes. The state guards which were immediately ordered out protected such furniture as was saved and did much to restore order. Two hundred and eighty-five residences, one hundred business structures and seven churches were wiped out in the blaze.

COMMERCIAL LEAGUE HAVING TROUBLE AS TO THE BY-LAWS

Certain Provisions Relative to Qualifications of Players Would Bar Many Good Men From Teams.

While there is no doubt that the Commercial League, which has flourished during the summer months for the past two seasons, will play their usual season again this year, still there is some doubt as to what teams will take part in the league. The trouble hinges over the possible adoption of by-laws which would disqualify many of the best players on all the possible teams of the league and would affect the Parker Pen team the worst.

The annual meeting of the Athletic Association, which handles the business of the Commercial League, was held last evening at the Y. M. C. A. The officers elected for the coming year were: Pres. T. O. Howe, vice president, John Gollner, and Sec. J. C. Klein. The association decided to offer prizes for itself for the best team, dividing them into first, second and third.

The Wisconsin Business College also made application for membership in the association and was accepted. This brings the total membership up to nine institutions, the others being: The Lewis Knitting Company, The Caloric Company, The Y. M. C. A., The Wisconsin Carriage Company, The Woolen Mills, The Rock River Cotton Company, The Parker Pen Company, and the Janesville Machine Company.

The trouble which may prevent several teams, particularly the Parker Pen Company, from taking part in this season's league games, was the new by-law suggested which excludes all professional players from any team. The term professional being described as any man who plays for money in any other game. It was evidently directed at the Parker Pen Company's team as they have the majority of the best players in the league and many of them play with outside teams.

Mr. Gollner this morning notified the chairman of the executive committee, F. E. Lewis, that his team would not sign the agreement and that if it was enforced they would drop out of the league. Another meeting of the association will be held in a few days to decide this matter definitely.

Another restriction as to the players' qualifications was decided upon and related to the players having been in the employ of the firm he was representing on the diamond for sixty days prior to the date of playing. The professional qualifications would in effect hit nearly every team in the league as most of the teams have one or two players who play Sunday ball with amateur teams where a purse is offered and would thus be barred.

It is probable that when the league does start it will be composed of teams from the Lewis Knitting Company, The Caloric Company, The Y. M. C. A., The Wisconsin Business College, The Woolen Mills, and possibly the Rock River Cotton Company. This will make a mixed-up schedule and make it necessary to have some of the games played on other grounds than Central Park.

The association has two years long, or on their lease on the ball park with the option of purchase at the end of that period and they have under consideration plans for remodeling the grounds by draining off a low place and filling in that would make it an ideal pleasure park and picnic grounds. The association offered the use of the park without cost to the committee having charge of the celebration here July 2d, 4th and 5th, instructing their secretary to make the formal tender to Mr. McKoy of that committee who has charge of the grounds and locations.

THE CHILD WELFARE EXHIBIT IS TO OPEN

Wonderful Lesson in the Care of Children is to be Taught in Big Chicago Attraction.

The Child Welfare Exhibit, the largest "show" ever given in Chicago, will be thrown open to the public at 10 o'clock this afternoon. With the opening of the doors, several records will be broken. In addition to being the largest exhibit ever held in Chicago, there will be 75,000 square feet of space for the various sections—it is the first exhibit ever held in that city, in which absolutely no lines of color, of race, of religion, of politics has been drawn. Literally everything and everything in Chicago have been working for weeks to make this exhibit a success. There is not an agency, private or public, which in any way bears upon the life and welfare of a child, which is not shown at the exhibit. The length of the time for the installation has been so short, in proportion to the amount of work to be done, that another record was broken. Day and night since Monday the workmen have been at the Coliseum, working in shifts with no lapse between, in order that the doors might be thrown open at the appointed time.

Another unique fact about this exhibit is that it sells nothing, it costs nothing, and it is free. For two weeks the exhibit will be open from 10 o'clock morning until 10 o'clock evening, Sunday included. On Tuesday and Friday of each week a small admission will be charged but every evening will be free. The aim of the promoters has been to have everybody in Chicago, whether resident of the city or visitor to it, see the exhibit.

This is the second Child Welfare Exhibit ever held. The first one was held in New York in February and proved so successful that public spirited men and women of Chicago decided one month ago to hold in Chicago, sixteen months and $70,000 were spent on the New York exhibit before its doors were opened. The New York committee generously offered the exhibit to Chicago without charge except for transportation. The Chicago promoters accepted the offer, deciding to add to the original exhibit, one which shows conditions as they exist in Chicago. That is why the Chicago exhibit is just twice as large as the New York one was.

Mrs. Cyrus Hall McCormick, Jr., of Chicago and Lake Forest, generously offered $20,000 to insure the financial success of the exhibit. Later when it was discovered that sum would not be sufficient to cover the plans of the committee, Mrs. McCormick gave the order to go ahead with the plans, saying she stood ready to pay the budget, as necessary.

More representative committees than those appointed for this exhibit, could not have been made. Men and women noted in their lines of work were chosen for the boards of committees. They chose the members to work with them. The response was wonderful. Catholics, Protestants, Jews have worked side by side for the exhibit, and every nationality in the city has had its representatives on the committee.

BABY, THEN TOOK HER NAP

Does Things to Unbreakable Doll That Inventor Had Believed to Be Impossible.

A New Jersey man and his wife went on a little vacation trip with some friends in an automobile last week. They left the baby at home with the maternal grandmother and the baby's uncle. All the while the parents were away the baby was upmost in their thoughts. In one of the towns they passed through they saw a sign in a shop window advertising an "unbreakable" doll. They stopped the machine and hurried in to get one for the baby. It was just what they had been looking for, and it seemed a providential occasion to fill a long-felt want.

When they got home they gave the unbreakable doll to the baby. The baby is a little maiden not yet two years old, but already has a fondness for dolls. She has also a desire to destroy them that some of the friends of the family call abnormal. She has more ways of breaking up her dolls than have ever been noticed before. Therefore what would happen to the unbreakable toy was a matter that was watched with considerable interest not only by her immediate family but by those in the neighborhood who were informed of the experiment.

The baby did not break the doll in her arms more than two minutes before she tried her strength. At the first attempt to pull it apart she was unsuccessful, and appeared to be puzzled. After swinging her right arm to and fro and seeming to do a little shadow boxing, just to see if she was in good condition or whether the trouble was with the doll, she tackled it again. This time she did better, and the doll retired from the encounter with a fractured skull. This seemed to encourage the baby, and she hurried the doll with excellent air and all her force against the marble fireplace. The doll's neck was broken as the result. In half an hour, as the result of the baby's efforts, the unbreakable doll was reduced to pieces fit only for the scrap heap. Then the child lay down for her afternoon nap and went to sleep with a scraggle smile on her face. She had achieved what the inventor of the unbreakable doll had believed to be impossible. She did not know this, but she was well satisfied with the result.

Elton Morrison of Madison was a guest at the home of E. H. Morrison the first of the week.

Dr. Sutherland of Janesville was a business visitor in Evansville yesterday.

Mrs. A. E. Johnson of Janesville has been here for a brief visit to relatives.

BADGER CROPS LOOK PARTICULARLY GOOD

About Normal is the Verdict in the State Board's Report Just Issued.

Crop conditions throughout Wisconsin are about normal, with slightly better prospects than in 1910, according to the spring farm crop report just issued by the state board of agriculture through Secretary R. W. Rowlands. More favorable weather conditions than existed last year are forecasted for this spring and a corresponding good effect is expected on the summer produce.

The only crops that seemed to have suffered thus far, and are farther behind than they were last year, are clover and alfalfa, although there seems to be a slight decrease in winter wheat, barley and spring rye. The decrease in alfalfa and clover is credited to the long drought of last summer and in many localities where the clover crop was an utter failure a large acreage of later planted crops will be the only means of bringing the crops up to normal. What clover survived the drought of last summer has been handicapped severely by lack of snow during the winter and the freezing and thawing weather of March and April. Alfalfa seems to have undergone the same ordeal, although it is reported in somewhat better condition than clover.

Prospects of fruit never were brighter than this year. The late spring, so different from that of last year, when all the buds were out before the heavy snowfall and frost late in April, has proved a boon to the fruit growers of the state in that the trees have not blossomed until practically every fear of another frost has passed. Due to the cold weather which prevailed throughout the spring the season has been so far advanced as it has been during other years on May 1.

However, with a few exceptions, the vegetation has not been damaged, and if it receives sufficient moisture to counteract the effect of last year's drought a good growth is expected with the coming of warm weather.

A summary of the reports received from the state board of agriculture corresponds throughout the state give the following estimates of present conditions of the principal crops, 100 representing a high average condition:

Winter wheat, 87; clover meadows, 75; winter rye, 82; alfalfa, 85; timothy meadows, 88; pastures, 87.

The spring seeding practically has been finished and the rain and snow of the latter part of April furnished the necessary moisture to give vegetation a fair start.

PORTER MAN HAD NARROW ESCAPE FROM INJURIES

John Johnson Was Pinned Underneath Wagon Box and Hit by Horse. Was Not Seriously Injured.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
Porter, May 10.—An John Johnson was starting for Edgerton with a load of boxes on Monday, one of the lines broke leaving the team unmanageable. The wagon and pack were overturned pinning Mr. Johnson underneath. At first it was thought he was seriously injured and Dr. Cleary was called, but it is thought no serious results will follow.

Other Items.
Mr. and Mrs. Will Nichols of Dunkirk, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George Nichols on an auto trip to the home of their brother in Fondville, on Sunday.

Monday was the warmest day of the season so far.

Frank Ladden is ill with rheumatism.

Allen and Monica Nichols were home from Edgerton a few days last week.

COMMITTEE NAMED TO ARRANGE FOR FUNDS

Chairman Gollner of the Finance Committee of Fourth Celebration Begins Active Work.

Chairman John Gollner of the finance committee of the coming three-day celebration, July 2d, 4th and 5th, has named the committee assistants and has begun active work of collecting funds for the celebration. The sale of the bonds has appealed to the business men generally and should be a big inducement to raising the needed four thousand dollars.

With John Gollner as chairman of the committee are the following gentlemen who will handle the finances of the big celebration: L. E. Wortendyke, Chas. Putnam, Andy Gilhous, C. E. King, John C. Nichols, George Olin, S. M. Smith, A. E. Hughes, Frank Jackson, Oscar Newhouse, H. W. McNamara, P. S. Sheldon and F. J. Hinterschied.

The bond issue explained by Mr. Gollner is as follows: Each subscriber is given a bond which is redeemable after the celebration, at the office of the treasurer, from the funds in the treasury. It is expected that this will be a considerable sum, as the various means of revenue which will be used give promise of large returns.

In Fond du Lac at a similar gathering two years ago enough money was raised from the show to take care of the contributions and leave a handsome sum in the treasury of the local camp.

That the celebration is already attracting attention outside the city is evidenced by the following article in the Beloit Daily News of last evening, showing that the Line City will send up a big delegation of both soldiers and visitors to swell the crowd during the three days:

"Company L of Beloit and the Beloit City band will take an active part in the big three-day celebration at Janesville on July 2, 4 and 5, when the Spanish War Veterans hold their state convention in that city.

"The militia will march to Janesville and bivouac there for the three days. They will participate in a big sham battle that will be staged around Janesville. L company is in a high state of efficiency and will be 'there with the goods' all the time. The state enactment this year gives promise of being one of the most successful in the history of the organization. The merchants and citizens of Janesville are actively supporting the event and will do all in their power to put Janesville on the map as a live town."

At the annual meeting of the Athletic Association last evening the use of the Conrad baseball park in Spring Brook, which is controlled by the association, was offered without charge to the association during the three days of the celebration and that with the offer of P. L. Myers of a store building for headquarters have both been accepted by the committee.

French Race Dwindling.

Great and manifold are the devices adopted by the rulers of France to arrest the dwindling of the population. The latest suggestion comes from the deputy for Meurthe and Moselle, who proposes that certain employments under government should be reserved for men who are fathers of three children at least. The yearly statistics are disquieting enough, but when comparison of past years is applied they become very alarming. In 1851 France was in the second rank among the great powers in regard to population, while today she only stands seventh.

RAILROAD SAFETY DELAYS

Five Years May Be Granted for Changes on Some Cars, Says the Commission.

Railroad equipment now actually in service will not have to be rebuilt to conform to the safety appliance regulations promulgated last autumn by the interstate commerce commission for substantially five years. The commission will soon issue an order extending the time within which the railroads will have to make their equipment—including freight and passenger cars and locomotives—conform to the safety appliance regulations.

Committees representing the special agents of the commission, the railroads, and the organizations of railway employees have submitted to the commission an agreement as to the suspension to be granted by the commission. It provides that the carriers shall have an extension of five years from July 1, 1911, to make their equipment conform to the regulations respecting brakes, end, and side ladder clearances, and other appliances on freight cars; an extension of three years from the same date to make the required changes on passenger cars; and an extension of two years to change locomotives, except switch engines, which must be made to conform to the regulations within one year.

Railway Gauges in China. Speaking generally, China has adopted the British gauge, that is, four feet eight and a half inches, but she is apparently not insisting upon this. The Chinese line in Yunnan has used the meter gauge, and the Kwangsi authorities appear to have determined to break away from what is supposed to be the standard and have either the meter or a narrower gauge instead. The eventual conversion of these lines will be an expensive business, and China has no money to waste.

It may be pleaded in extenuation that the lines were built by French engineers, and also that they will connect with the French railways in French Indo-China; but these excuses are inadequate. Strategically it suits France that the railways should be the same gauge as those in her own territory, but still more so it would be to the advantage of China that the gauge of her railways should be not the same as that of the Indo-Chinese railways, but in conformity with that adopted for other Chinese lines.—National Review.

Safety of Railroad Travel.

Not a single passenger out of 126,000,000 carried on the Pennsylvania railroad in 1910 was killed in a train accident. This is brought out in a report by the company, giving accident statistics for the years 1908, 1909 and 1910 for the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie, including the Pennsylvania railroad proper, the Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington, the Northern Central railway, the Cumberland Valley, the Maryland, Delaware & Virginia railway, the Baltimore, Chesapeake & Atlantic railway, the West Jersey and the Long Island railroad.

Combining the statistics for 1908, 1909 and 1910, it is shown that in that time the number of passengers carried on the lines east of Pittsburgh and Erie was 371,568,277—more than four times as many persons as there are in the United States—and only one of them was killed as a result of a train wreck.—New York Herald.

Not Salts, Oil or Pills, But 'Cascarels'

No odds how sick your Stomach; how hard your head aches or how bilious—Cascarels make you feel great.

Cascarels act as a bowel tonic, not as an irritant. They are vegetable, their action is natural. Their effect is in the same as the effect of some foods. They are gentle; no griping. They are pleasant; no dreading. They are convenient; no waiting. One old way was easier all. The effect was to grease the bowels, and for a single day. Off never caused the bowel muscles to act. Other ways were pills, salts and cathartics. The effect was the same as pepper in the nostrils. They flooded the bowels with fluid. Those fluids were digestive juices. And the waste today means a lack tomorrow.

We knew that the method was wrong. That the after-effects only weakened the bowels. But we had no gentle laxative in the old days. So we waited as long as we could, then took a big dose of physic. The method today is to take one Cascarels at a time—just as soon as you need it. Then the bowels are always clean. They cost only 10 cents per box at any drug store.

Chronic Diseases Successfully Treated.

The doctor has such wonderful success in the treatment of certain diseases that he feels fully warranted in making the following liberal offer.

He will make a thorough examination and tell you just what can be done; what the treatment will cost and about how long it will take to effect a cure. Dr. Shallenberger was a very person who suffered from a chronic disease—it makes no difference how bad their case is, or how long they have suffered, or who have been treated and recovered. He is curable to call and consult him. He will make a thorough examination of their case, tell exactly what can be done, whether they are curable or not, how long it will require and all about it. He treats chronic Stomach Trouble, Liver Disease, Constipation, Rheumatism, Bladder Trouble, Illness of the Kidneys, Chronic Catarrh in all its forms, Heart and Nerve Trouble, Diseases of women a specialty.

Dr. Shallenberger has a system of treatment which is considered as the best known for chronic diseases. He is able to cure many cases that have resisted other treatments—that are considered incurable. He is distinctly understood that he does not undertake any case that he thinks is incurable, and will tell the patient candidly when he has made the examination.

He has a special treatment for general weakness of men, which he would like to explain in person. He will examine every case that calls on him on the above date absolutely free of charge.

OLD THEATER LOTTERY

CHICAGO SHOW HOUSE BROUGHT $600,000 IN 1867.

Builder of Crosby's Opera House Went Broke on Enterprise and Decided to Dispose of Place by Lottery.

Doubtless in the rummage of a good many homes in this country might still be found elaborate and ornate certificates of chance in the great lottery of Crosby's opera house, Chicago, the drawings for which took place January 21, 1867. Nearly one hundred thousand of these chances were sold at $5 per chance, the builder of the opera house retaining more than twenty-five thousand himself after the sale had closed.

This beautiful theater, famous in its day, was erected by Uranus H. Crosby, a prosperous wholesale liquor merchant, who went to Chicago from Massachusetts. He planned so magnificently that when he had his building finished and furnished he had put into it not only all his business money, but most of his private fortune as well, the institution standing him about $600,000. It was too early for a "temple of art" in Chicago, and the builder went broke. Then it was that the plan to sell the house by lottery was formed and carried out. The prospectus described the building and its furnishings, the latter including a number of very costly paintings. For months the sale went on. The purchasers covered the whole country. The hopes of the winners ran high, not only because of the capital price, the opera house itself, but because of the lesser prizes, especially the paintings.

The drawing was directed by a board of men representing a half dozen cities. For two days before it took place train loads of ticket holders rolled into Chicago. On the Sunday preceding the Monday of the drawing the streets were crowded. Improvised sleeping accommodations had to be provided for the vast throng. Every hall, as well as every hotel and boarding house, was filled to its capacity. The grand prize was not reached until the one hundred and thirtieth drawing, and it went to a man who was in Chicago, one of the few who had forgotten all about his investment and knew nothing, at the time, of the drawing. A. H. Lee of Prairie du Rocher, Ill. Several of the paintings, including Hieronymus' "The Yosemite Valley," were drawn by Mr. Crosby.

"The boy was silent from within—eyes heavy."
"Then who the devil are you? I never saw you before."
"That's very true, and my name wouldn't help any. Nevertheless, you're perfectly welcome to it. I am

"Oh, You Mean Hope? Do You Know Her?"

Jack Keith." No expression of recognition came into the face of the other, and Keith added curtly, "Shall we talk?"

There was a moment's silence, and then Willoughby swung his feet over the edge of the bed onto the floor.

"Fire away," he said shortly, "until I see what the game is about."

CHAPTER XVIII.

Interviewing Willoughby.

Coolly, yet without in the least comprehending how best to proceed, Keith drew toward him the only chair in the room, and sat down. Miss Hope—more widely known as Christie MacLure—had claimed this drunken lad as her brother, but, according to Willoughby, he had vehemently denied any such relationship. Yet there must be some previous association between the two, and what this was the plainman proposed to discover. "The problem was how best to cause the fellow to talk frankly—could he be reached more easily by reference to the girl or the gambler? Keith studying the sullen, obstinate face confronting him, with instinctive antagonism over his intrusion, swiftly determined on the girl.

"It was not very nice of me to come in on you this way," he began, apologetically, "but you see I happened to know your sister."

"My sister? Oh, I guess not!"
"Yes, but I do," throwing a confidence into his tone he was far from feeling, "Miss Hope and I are friends."

The boy sprang to his feet, his face flushed.

"Oh, you mean Hope? Do you know her? Say, I thought you were giving me that old gag about Christie MacLure."

"Certainly not; who is she?"
"That's more than I know; fellow came to me at Carson, and said he'd met my sister on a stage west of Topeka. I knew he was lying, because she's home over in Missouri. Finally, I got it out of him that she claimed to be my sister, but her name was MacLure. Why, I don't even know her, and what do you suppose she ever picked me out for her brother for?"

He was plainly puzzled, and perfectly convinced it was all a mistake. That his sister might have left home since he did, and drifted West under an assumed name, apparently never occurred to him as possible. To Keith this was the explanation, and nothing could be more natural, considering her work, yet he did not feel like shattering the lad's loyalty. Faith in the water might yet save him.

"Perhaps the fellow who told you—"

he hazarded blindly, speaking the first thought which came to his mind, "had some reason to desire to make you think this MacLure girl was your sister."

"The suggestion caused him to laugh at first; then his face suddenly sobered, as though a new thought had occurred to him.

"Damn me, no, it couldn't be that," he exclaimed, one hand pressing his head. "He couldn't be workin' no trick of that kind on me."

"Whom do you mean?"
"A fellow named Hawley," evasively. "The man who claimed to have met my sister."

"Black Bart? Hawley?"
The boy lifted his head again, his eyes filled with suspicion.

"Yes, if you must know; he's a gambler all right, but he's stuck to me when I was down and out. You know him?"

"Just a little," carelessly, "but what sort of a trick could he be working trying to make you acknowledge Christie MacLure as your sister?"

Willoughby did not answer, shifting uneasily about on the bed. Keith waited, and at last the boy blurted out:

"Oh, it wasn't nothing much. I told him something when I was drunk once, that I thought maybe might have stuck to him. Odd he should make that mistake, too, for I showed him Hope's picture. Bart's a schemer, and I didn't know but what he might have figured out a trick, though I don't see how he could. It wasn't no more than a pipe dream, I reckon. Where did you meet Hope? Back in Missouri?"

One thing was clearly evident—the boy's faith in his sister. If he was to be rightly influenced, and led back to her, he must have no suspicion aroused that her life was any different from what it had been before he left home. Besides if Keith hoped to gain any inkling of what Hawley's purpose could be, he must win the confidence of Willoughby. This could not be done by telling him of Hope's present life. These considerations flashed through his mind, and as swiftly determined his answer.

"Oh, I've known her some time. Not long ago I did her a service for which she is grateful. Did you know she was out in this country searching for you?"

"Out here? In Kansas?"
"Sure; that isn't much of a trip for a spirited girl. She got it in her head from your letters that you were in trouble, and set out to find you and bring you home. She didn't tell me this, but that is the way I heard it. It was for her sake I came in here. Why not go to her, Willoughby, and then both of you return to Missouri?"

The sullenness had gone out of the boy's face; he looked tired, discouraged.

"Where is Hope?" he asked.
"Fort Larned, I suppose. She went to Carson City first."

"Well, that settles it," shaking his head. "You don't suppose I could go brownin' round Larned, and not get snappin' up, do you? They don't chase deserters very far out here, but that's the post I skipped from, and they'd jug me all right. Besides, I'm damned if I'll go back until I get a stake. I want to see a fellow first."

"What fellow?"
"Well, it's Hawley, if you want to know so bad. He said if I would come here and wait for him he'd put me on to a good thing."

The boy fidgeted along the edge of the bed, evidently half ashamed of himself, yet obstinate and unyielding. Keith sat watching his face, unable to evolve any means of changing his decision. Hawley's influence just at present was greater than Hope's, because the lad naturally felt ashamed to go slinking home penniless and defeated. His pride held him to Hawley, and his faith that the man would redeem his promise. Keith understood all this readily enough, and comprehended also that if "Black Bart" had any use for the boy it would be for some criminal purpose. What was it?

Was there a deeply laid plot back of all these preparations involving both Willoughby and his sister? What was it Hawley was scheming about so carefully, holding this boy deserter in one hand, while he reached out the other after Christie MacLure? Surely, the man was not working blindly; he must have a purpose in view. Willoughby had acknowledged he had told the fellow something once when he was drunk—about his family history, no doubt, for he had shown him Hope's picture. What that family secret was Keith had no means of guessing, but Hawley, the moment he saw the face on the cardboard, had evidently recognized Christie MacLure—had thought of some way in which what he now knew could be turned to advantage. The few scattered facts which Keith had collected all seemed to point to such a conclusion—Hawley had sent the boy to Sheridan, where he would be out of sight, with orders to wait for him there, and the promise of a "stake" to keep him quiet. Then he had gone to Independence and Topeka seeking after Christie MacLure. Evidently he meant to keep the two apart until he had gained from each whatever it was he sought. But what could that be? What family secret could Willoughby have blurted out in his cups, which had so stimulated the gambler's wit?

Two things combined to cause Keith to determine he would uncover this rascality—his desire to repay Hawley, and his interest in the girl rescued on the Salt Fork. This gossip web of intrigue into which he had stumbled unwittingly was nothing to him personally; had it not involved both Hawley and Miss Hope, he would have left it unworked without another thought. But under the circumstances it became his own battle. There was a crime here—hidden as yet, and probably not consummated—involving wrong, perhaps disgrace, to the young girl. He had rescued her once from out the clutches of this man, and he had no intention of deserting her now. Whatever her life might be, she was certainly an innocent victim in this case, deserving his protection. The memory came to him of her face upturned toward him in that little room of the Occidental, her eyes tear-dimmed, her lips asking him to come back to her again. He could not believe her a bad woman, and his lips compressed, his eyes darkened, with fixed determination. He would dig into this until he uncovered the truth; he would find out what dirty trick "Black Bart" was up to.

As he thought this out, not swiftly as recorded, but slowly, deliberately, piecing the bits together within his mind, blindly feeling his way to a final conclusion, the boy had sunk back upon the bed, overcome with liquor, and fallen asleep. Keith stepped over, and looked down upon him in the dim light. He could recognize something of her features in the upturned face, and his eyes softened. There was no use seeking again to arouse him; even had he been sober, he would not have talked freely.

Keith lifted the dangling feet into a more comfortable position, turned the lamp lower, went out, and latched the door. Two men were tramping heavily up the stairs, and they turned into the hall at the very moment he disappeared within his own room. He still retained his grasp upon the latch, when a voice outside asked:

"What number did you say, Hill—29?"

Keith straightened up as though suddenly prickled by a knife; he could never forget that voice—it was Hawley's.

CHAPTER XIX.

A Glimpse at Conspiracy.

Leaning against the inside of his own door, startled by the rapid sequence of events, Keith was able, from different sounds reaching him, to mentally picture most of what occurred in the next room. He heard Hill sink down into the convenient chair, and drink from the bottle, while the gambler apparently advanced toward the bed, where he stood looking down on his unconscious occupant.

"The fool is dead drunk," he declared disgustedly. "We can't do anything with him tonight."

"I say—throw bucket water over him," blurted the other genially, "allers sobers me off."

Hawley made no response, evidently finding a seat on one end of the washstand.

"Hardly worth while, Scott," he returned finally. "Perhaps I better have some understanding with Christie, anyhow, before I pump the boy any further. If we can once get her working with us, Willoughby won't have much hand in the play—we shan't need him." "Thought I told you to keep sober?"

"Am sober," solemnly, "ain't had but six drinks; just nat'ly tired out."
"Oh, indeed; well, such a room as this would drive any man to drink. Did you get what I sent you here after?"
"I sure did, Bart," and Keith heard

"Let Up! Damn Yer! He Called Himself Jack Keith."

the fellow got to his feet unsteadily. "Here's the picture, an' some letters. I didn't take only what he had in the grip."

Hawley shuffled the letters over in his hands, apparently hastily reading them with some difficulty in the dim light.

"Nothing there to give us any help," he acknowledged reluctantly, "mostly advice as far as I can see. Damn the light; a glow worm would be better." There was a pause; then he slapped his leg. "However, it's clear they live in Springfield, Missouri, and this photograph is a peach. Just look here, Hill! What did I tell you? Ain't Christie a dead ringer for this girl?"

"You bet she is, Bart," admitted the other in maddish admiration, "only, I reckon, maybe some older."

"Well, she ought to be accordin' to Willoughby's story, an' them papers bear him out all right, so I reckon he's told it straight—this Phyllis would be twenty-six now, and that's just about what Christie is. It wouldn't have fit better if we had made it on purpose. If the girl will only play up to the part we won't need any other evidence—her face would be enough." (To Be Continued.)

As it Should Be.

"A beget monopolies," remarked the married philosopher, "For example," queried the bachelor, "Well," replied the married philosopher, "when a girl feels that she can trust a man, she wants a monopoly on him."

Warning To Railroad Men.

E. S. Bacon, 11 East St., Bath, Mo., sends out this warning to railroaders: "A conductor on the railroad, my work caused a chronic inflammation of the kidneys, and I was miserable and all played out. A friend advised Foley's Kidney Pills and from the day I commenced taking them, I began to regain my strength. The inflammation cleared and I am far better than I have been for twenty years. The weakness and dizzy spells are a thing of the past and I highly recommend Foley's Kidney Pills." Badger Drug Co.

How To Beautify Plainest Complexions

(Toilettes.)

"The growing popularity of face lotion is in keeping with our natural progress," says a well-known beauty writer, "and before long they will have supplanted powders and cosmetics."

"A very fine lotion can be prepared at little cost by dissolving a small 'original package of mayatone in eight ounces of witch-hazel. This, applied to the skin daily, frees it of pimples, blackheads or other blemishes, and will give to the 'muddy' or lifeless complexion a rich embellishment and natural healthful impossible with powder or rouge."

"This mayatone lotion is greaseless and prevents the growth of hairs. Many women use it to prevent tan and it is employed to protect the skin from harsh winds and changing weather."

COUGHS THAT HURT

It isn't the ordinary cough resulting from a slight cold settling on the lungs that is most to be feared—it is the dry, hacking cough that lunge on for months without any apparent cause. A chronic irritation is set up in the bronchial tubes and this may involve the lungs.

When you are in good physical condition, with plenty of pure blood, no cough can get much of a hold. Vinol is the common sense treatment for coughs of all kinds because it builds up the body, makes pure, rich blood and strengthens the nervous system. Miss Anna Ray of Bangor, Me., says Vinol cured her of a terrible cough that had lasted for five years. We know of some other very stubborn coughs that Vinol has cured and we are so sure of the value of this delicious cod liver and iron tonic of ours that we refund the money to any customer who is not well pleased with its effects.

"THE RADIUM PALACE."

With that addition turn of competitive zeal, and with the American showman's desire to outshine all others in his line, Manager Vogel, the owner and manager of Vogel's Big City Theatre, presents the greatest "First Part" setting ever seen in a modern production during the coming season. The promise is not like the usual claim of the indifferent and haphazard producer, but the assured word, backed by fact, of a responsible and representative manager.

FRANCIS MACMILLEN, THE GREAT VIOLINIST.

he termed "imprisoned sunshine." To be more specific, the entire First Part setting will be hung with multi-colored beads, imported by Mr. Vogel from the best and biggest factory in Bucharest, Roumania. This country has for years been known as the greatest producer of fine glassware, the finest of Bohemian jets and crystals being made there. These beads were made especially for Mr. Vogel by the firm of Nuredin, Krenitz & Co., the firm that a few years ago was successful in producing the famous "scientific diamond," which was the outcome of years of patient study by one of the foremost alchemists of Europe. This perfect diamond was produced by a combination of atmospheric changes and chemical combination. The beads made for Mr. Vogel were specially hardened by a process known only to the firm above mentioned, and are capable of sustaining a pressure of one hundred times their own weight. This was found necessary, as in being hung and taken down each day in short order, the whole set would have been a mass of broken glass. The beads are strung on a double set of electric wire, so made that an arc is formed in every second bead, causing an alternating platinum spectrum that sends out flashes of color that is beyond written description, bewildering in its magnitude, dazzling and fairy-like beauty. The beads are octagonal in form, and are colored with a special pigment that has been treated chemically in a soluble form of radium. This coloring is on the inside and the beveled edges of the beads cause a refraction equal to three times the sides. A special electric plant, operated with storage batteries and the main electric current taken through a special rheostat, is carried to work out the effect. The wiring and electric apparatus was made specially for Mr. Vogel by the firm of Siemens & Halske, the foremost electrical experts of Berlin, Germany.

The designs on the hangings were worked out under the direction of Mr. Gustav Schell, the well-known American scenic artist, who was sent to Europe by Mr. Vogel specially to superintend this end of the scenic investment. Over six thousand pounds of beads are used, and if the alternating arcs in each succeeding bead are counted, it may be conservatively said that over twenty-two thousand independent jets of fire will shine out through the hangings with diamond-like brilliancy.

Many American electricians and scenic artists have seen the set, at a special reception given by Mr. Vogel, and all agree that there has never been anything in the line of scenic splendor ever seen in this or any other country to compare favorably with this most wonderful and dazzling set.

"THE ROSARY."

In "The Rosary," which comes to the Myers Theatre Saturday May 13th matinee and evening, Edward E. Rose, the author of the play has taken advantage of an average set of people, and shows you first their outside, then their inside, with careful strokes and a firm hand, he takes you within the brains and mind of each character. You even see result of their thinking. It is like seeing first the results of electricity—street cars running, telephone working—all the wonderful effects of this mighty force—and then being taken to the central power house from whence all this energy flows.

And you see the effect of thought upon the different individuals. One character is that of a modern business man, a stock broker happily married to a wife who loves him; but his thought is wrong. He harbors fear,

INDICTED LEGISLATORS.

Columbus, O.—Things are moving with lightning-like rapidity in the alleged bribery scandal wherein five members of the legislature and the sergeant-at-arms of the senate are charged with soliciting bribes. The indicted men refused to talk, except to maintain their entire innocence and their ability to prove the same when their case comes up in court. Instead of attempting to indict the members for accepting alleged bribes the grand jury held them for soliciting.

celebration at Quebec two years ago. No fewer than 15,000 performers will take part in this pageant. There will be altogether twenty-four scenes, eight of which will be presented daily in the great open-air amphitheatre designed by Sir Anton Webb.

Besides the two principal features of the festival—the exhibition and the pageant—there will be innumerable other attractions, such as caravans, naval and military tournaments, aviation demonstrations, athletic contests and theatrical and musical entertainments.

The festival will continue until October and it is estimated that the attendance of visitors will equal if not surpass that at any previous international exhibition held in any part of the world. The entire profits of the festival will be devoted to King Edward VII's Hospital Fund.

Even Admitting It. "Perhaps I know more than you think I do." "Perhaps you do, but don't flatter yourself that that makes you a high brow."

Evidently an Impostor. "Did I understand you to say that man was from Kentucky?" "Yes." "You must be mistaken. He isn't from Kentucky."

"Yes, I am sure I heard somewhere that he was."

At the Ball. "I presume you have some trouble keeping your wife in clothes?" "Oh, no; none at all. As long as she measures more around the hips than she does about the waist she won't come out of her clothes any farther than she is now."

Quite a Novelty. "You say his society drama is a novelty?" "Yes. There was no fascinating freestyle wrecker in it and the heroine remained unmarried for nearly six months after she got her divorce."

IMPROVED FARMS FOR SALE

$32.50 to $40.00 Per Acre

These improved farms are in a wonderful new country, the Red River Valley Polk County, Minnesota. I guarantee that the soil, and the conditions are equal to Rock County, and that there is more rain fall, complete drainage system, good roads, schools, churches, good railroad facilities. Young men, and men who are looking for a new home, will look a long time before they find land that is better than this, at the prices. I have listed with me a few farms, at prices $32.50 to $40.00 per acre.

Write me for further information. I'll agree to refund railroad fare both ways, if the land and conditions are not exactly as represented to you. Write me today or call at my office.

Rating Bureau In Operation

The local rating bureau of the Industrial and Commercial Club is about completed and is in operation with approximately 5000 names entered on the rating records. This bureau will be helpful to the retailer and the public alike. The dealer because he can be released from the extension of credit to the person who really buys goods with no intention of paying or who expects to have the dealer carry the account until the dealer pleases his own sweet will in regard to settlement. The public is benefited because to the person who is prompt in payment of account is established in credit immediately with all of the patrons of the bureau; it minimizes the loss to the dealer and gives him opportunity to extend additional trade courtesies to the prompt pay customers. It will be helpful to the person who has been in the habit of buying extravagantly without due thought as to when the account must be paid—it will lead him to consider the need for conservation of resources. It will really be the means of placing many a fellow on his feet.

Wifely Sympathy.

The coarse, burly ruffian was on trial for whipping his wife. The testimony against him was direct and conclusive. "Prisoner," said the indignant police justice, "there is no use in imposing a fine, for your poor wife would work her fingers off to pay it for you. I shall send you to the workhouse for 60 days."

"Your honor," protested the weeping woman, "that ain't half enough! You ought to send him for six months!"

THE MUSE RENEGES.

Oh, who could sing a song of spring And flowers sweetly swaying; Or liltheous birds upon the wing And happy children playing? When all the world around, about Is dreary in the rain And there's no sunbeam peeping out To gladden the golden plain.

Oh, who could lift a roundelay When clouds are scudding low And genial mirth has gone away— Just where, I do not know? 'Tis clear I'm not the right for that—I'm only fit for sighing. I've put up inside a city flat, There's just no use of trying!

Shoes at Cost Plus 5 Per Cent.

More About the Regal Shoe Co.'s Plan of Scientific and Economical Shoe-Selling

There is a bill before Congress to authorize the coinage of the half-cent

The advocates of this bill say that a half-cent coin would save the public hundreds of dollars a year. Prices like 6½ cents, 12½ cents, 37½ cents, are common in the dry-goods shops. But if you buy only one yard of a 37½ cent muslin, you must pay 38 cents. If you buy a half-a-yard of 35 cent muslin you must pay, not 17½ cents, but 18 cents. So, the use of the half-cent is urged as a measure of economy.

If it is wise to split a cent, how much wiser to split half dollars?

If the public has lost thousands through the lack of a half-cent, how many millions has the public lost because there was no coin of less value than the half-dollar recognized in shoe stores?

Think a moment and you will see that this is a fact. Have you ever seen a fine shoe of standard make regularly sold at any other price than full dollars or half dollars—$3.50, $4.00, $4.50, $5.00, and so on?

Standard shoes have always been made to fit these arbitrary prices, fixed in advance. Why? We don't know—except that it is a trade custom, which is no reason at all.

Anyhow, the Regal Shoe Co. have abolished that custom

They have put the selling of shoes on to the same exact, scientific, economical basis that governs the pricing of most other necessities of life, and which ought to govern all of them.

Regal Shoes will hereafter be priced at cost of making, plus five per cent. commission and the cost of selling.

Regals will be made in several general price-classes, but the actual price of every model will be figured as above by certified public accountants. AND STAMPED ON THE SHOES AT THE FACTORY.

The price will be stamped just as it figures out (except that there will be no splitting nickels). It may be an "odd" price, like $3.85, $4.35, etc.—or it may be an "even" price, like $4.00, $4.50, etc. Whatever it really figures, you will pay. There will be no "juggling" either of the shoes or the prices to make the latter conform to tradition.

This is the Stamp

This stamp is your guarantee of full Regal quality at the lowest price for which such quality can be bought. It takes all the uncertainty, all the unknown profits, all the unnecessary expense out of shoe buying.

It is your guarantee that the LARGEST POSSIBLE PROPORTION of the price you pay is returned in leather and workmanship.

In Regal Shoes MORE OF YOUR MONEY WILL GO FOR SHOE SATISFACTION and LESS FOR SOME ONE'S PROFIT than in any other make you can buy.

In Regal Shoes you get what you want, and pay only for what you get

If a heavier sole, worth 20 cents more, is put into a Regal Shoe that would otherwise sell for $4.00, the price of that shoe will be $4.20. Under the old system further and unnecessary expense had to be added also, to bring the retail price up to $4.50.

If leather goes up, you will pay us only the exact amount of the advance. If leather goes down, you now automatically save 95 per cent. of whatever the Regal Factories save. Heretofore, small economies in factory cost could seldom save you anything.

If a new Regal model is designed that can be sold at, say, $4.35, it will be sold at $4.35. Under the old system, either the shoe had to be trimmed down to make it cost $4.00, or unnecessary expense added to make it cost $4.50.

Regal Prices Are Now $3.35 to $5.85

doubt and unbelief in the good that lies all about him. He loses all—fortune, home, wife—even his own self-respect.

How does it all end? Ah, that is too long for me to tell you, but this I may say, that he is brought to a knowledge of the supreme law of life by a priest, a modern priest, not of conventional stage character, but a real man, a big man of faith, strength and conviction, whose eyes see clearly and whose spiritual power is the moving force of the play.

This beautiful play has just completed a three months' run in Chicago, and a two months' run in New York City. It is now the sensation of the season in Boston where it is playing at the Globe Theatre. Manager Myers has arranged for the appearance of a special company in this play at the Myers Theatre Saturday, May 13, matinee and evening.

King To Open Empire Festival. London, May 11.—In the famous white coach drawn by cream-colored horses and with outsiders in scarlet livery, King George and Queen Mary will drive through the streets of London tomorrow to attend the formal opening of the great Festival of Empire at the Crystal Palace. Aside from the importance of the exhibition itself the opening will be notable as the first of the series of elaborate functions and ceremonials that will mark the coronation season. The colonial premiers and other representatives who have arrived in London for the Imperial Conference will be present at the opening of the Crystal Palace exhibition, as will also the members of state, members of parliament, foreign diplomats and many other persons of prominence.

The Festival of Empire, with its Imperial Exhibition and Pageant of Empire, was originally arranged for last year, but was abandoned in consequence of the death of King Edward VII. Under the plans as rearranged the affair is to be conducted on a scale of magnificence never before attempted in the history of London.

The overseas dominions of the empire have erected large and handsome buildings to house the wealth of exhibits illustrating their resources and industrial and social development. The Canadian building alone cost $250,000. In addition to the respective colonial pavilions there is an All-British exhibition occupying the greater part of the main building of the Crystal Palace. In this section the industrial, commercial, and productive resources of the British empire are fully displayed.
